Our Presidents.

The American Presidential line
begin in seventeen eighty-nine—
The roll was led by Washington.
Who served two terms, then Adams one;
Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, Enjoyed two terms each, although John Quincy Adams had but one.
"Old Hickory" twice the honor won;
Van Buren was the next enrolled.
Harrison died and left years four
For Tyler; Polk the burden bore;
Zack Taylor died in years scarce two.
And Fillmore filled the balance due.
The next for a full term was Pierce;
Buchanna had an equal chance to verse.
The Lincoln, first Republican,
Was shot as his second term began.
And Johnson ruled with once Grant,
Who had two terms, Hayes one and Grant;
Four months had Garfield who was killed,
And Arthur then the office filled.

EXCHANGE SCINTILLATIONS

The Cincinnati Penny Post asserts that "the election of the last United States Senator from Ohio was a C. D.
D. (cool oil Democrat) transaction."

His Mattie was a pretty girl,
As fair as one could be,
And every time he made a call
He had a Matron-knee.

handsomest young lady in Kansas City. The beaux of that town call her "The Beautiful Snow."—Breck-

"Pieces of him have," exclaimed the boy, indulging in a fresh outburst of tears, "and I'm expecting the rest every minute."—St. Joseph Fashion decrees that "Gentlemen's coat-leaves must have no waste in onstration how-wows when a young man calls on his girl.—Glasgow

A man named Powers lately eloped from Utica, N. Y., with another man's wife and sister. "No penit-

The Kentucky Legislature has passed an act taxing male dog 50 cents and their mothers and sisters $1 each. Why this discrimination in favor of the male dogs? Are they

Less than a year ago, down in Mississippi, Archibald Cane was married to Miss Emily Patch. One day last week his wife presented him with three sons at a birth. She is a prolific Pame Patch.—Breckenridge

In some parts of the country it is customary for the man who applies for marriage license to give the clerk $5 extra as a sort of complimentary fee. Clerk Adams knows this from here say, and not from actual experience.—Madisonville Times.

We see from the Personal Column of the Frankfort Yeoman, that "General Williams was on the floor of both houses Saturday." It strikes us that is where he should have been;
he certainly had no business on the walls or ceiling.—Madisonville Times.

A man was found frozen to death in Chicago with a whisky bottle in his pocket. What we don't understand is, how a man can freeze after he has been drinking Chicago whisky. One dram usually makes a man wish to have the hose turned on him.

"What are you crying about asked a kind hearted stranger of a lad who was standing in front of a newspaper office weeping as if his heart would break.

"Oh, dad's gone up stairs to lick
the editor."

"Well has he come down yet?"

pursued the good Samaritan.

Wheeler was hung in California yesterday for the murder of a young girl whom he playfully deceived into sitting on his knee, then quietly choking her to death. He had three trials, but was sentenced to death each time. Not one of the thirty-six jurors could find an excuse for choking a pretty girl when she was sitting on a man's lap.—Louisville Post.

Probably the longest lovers' quarrel on record came to an end the other day in Branford, Conn., when Miss Jennie Durand and James O.
Smith were married. They quarreled in 1825, and did not meet again for fifty-eight years. The groom is eighty and the bride is seventy-seven.
However, fifty-nine years of peace
are well worth one little quarrel.—
This and That.

What is called "newspaper geography" is said to have been introduced in some of the schools of New Haven, Conn. The pupils are required to trace out on the map the places referred to in the columns of the morning newspaper. They appear to take much interest in this new method of studying geography. It might prove valuable if supplied mented with interesting information from the teacher.

The New Siamese Twins.
The brothers Tocci, born in Turin in 1877, are considered to be even more curious than the famous Siamese twins.

They have two well formed heads, two pairs of arms and two thoraxes, with all internal organs; but at the level of the sixth rib they coalesce into one body.

They have only one abdomen, one anus, one right and one left leg. Their genital organs consist of a penis and scrotum, and at the back there is a rudimentary male genital organ, from which urine sometimes escapes.

It is a curious fact that the right leg moves only under the control of the right twin (named Baptist), while the other is movable only by the left twin (named Jacob.)

As a result, they are unable to walk. This left foot is de-formed, and is an example of talipes equinus. Each infant has a distinct moral personality; one cries while the other is laughing, one is awake while the other sleeps. When one is sit-ting up, the other is in a position almost horizontal.—Press. Medicate Belge.

An Editor Interviewed.
[Merchant Traveler.]

"See here, Mr. Editor," said an irate woman, coming into the sam-uit and leaving the door open, "see here, what's this in your mean little newspaper?"

"Really madam, there is so much in it, considering it's only $2 per year, in advance, with liberal reduc-tion to clubs, that I cannot at the first blush tell you what it is."

"Well, don't talk your jaw off, but tell me what you mean by this refer-ence to my late husband?"

"Ah, madame, the good kind soul who died only yesterday?"

"The same one; you didn't think I was planting one after each meal, did you?"

"Hardly that, madam, but what do you refer to?"

"Why sir, the passage in the obituary where you say 'he was consigned to a roasting place with his fathers.'"

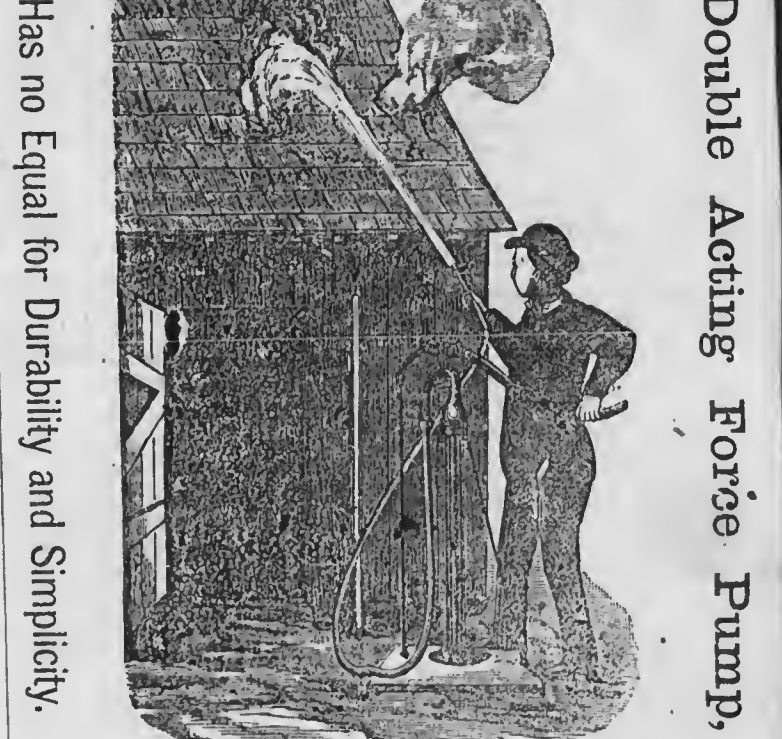

"Ahem, madam, ahem; let me see," and the editor grabbed the paper and gazed intently at the words. "I beg your pardon, madam; it should have been a 'resting place; and if you will come down to the office this after-noon you can have the scalp of any infernal compositor in the office, and I will tear it off for you. We can stand some things, but that style is too harrowing on the feelings of a good paying subscriber like yourself."

She was pacified and got the scalp.

Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice, having placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrhs, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Scurvy Complaints, after having tested it wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. ### The Senatorial Caucus.

MONDAY EVENING.

The Senatorial caucus met as usual Monday night and took the 67th, 68th and 69th ballots without changing the status of the dead-lock. Previous to the meeting Monday night Mr. Sweeney had submitted the following proposition: He would step aside let his supporters vote their honest convictions and decide which was the stronger Williams or Blackburn, and then let the hindmost man be dropped and a final ballot be taken between the foremost and Sweeney. This proposition was rejected by both Williams and Blackburn.

TUESDAY EVENING.

The meeting Tuesday night was a stormy one. The roll called showed 118 members present in person and by proxy. As soon as it was completed Mr. Harcourt offered a resolution that hereafter further nominations be permitted at any time. Mr. Offutt spoke in favor of the resolution. Mr. Woods spoke on the opposite side. Then Mr. Owens moved to postpone which brought on a sharp cutting debate between Messrs. Offutt and Owens.

Mr. Harcourt and senators Canfield and Hallam spoke against postponement and Mr. Stone is in favor of it and then the caucus fairly "howled" in the intensity of excitement as Offutt and Owens began another spirited debate.

A vote was at last taken and the motion to postpone was lost by a vote of 64 to 53. The motion to permit further nominations then passed by a vote of 68 to 50.

This threw the doors wide open for Carlisle, McKenzie or anybody else who wants to run.

No further nominations were then made but three more ballots were taken. The 70th resulted, Williams 52; Blackburn 47; Sweeney 22—Blackburn changing from Sweeney to Williams, Sweeney from Sweeney to Blackburn and Kimball from Williams to Blackburn. The 71st and 72nd ballots resulted the same as the preceding one, and then the caucus adjourned.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The situation was much changed Wednesday night. The proposition previously made by Sweeney was offered in a resolution. This brought on an animated discussion and a deal of filibustering and the caucus passed an amendment dropping the hindmost candidate until a nomination was reached. McKenzie, Carlisle, Oscar Turner and several less important candidates were then put in the field and the caucus adjourned before taking a vote.

Mary Anderson, who is now in London, has scored another triumph as Clarice in Gilbert's new drama, "Comely and Tragedy." She has a full London wild with her brilliant success.

Thilen G. Abbott, for ten years cashier of the Union Market National Bank, of Watertown, Mass., absconded Monday, taking with him $31,160 of the bank's funds. He is 40 years old, has a wife and four children, and was a member of the Baptist church. It is believed a woman accompanied him in his flight.

Congressman E. W. Mackey, of South Carolina, died suddenly at Washington, Monday. He was a Republican and represented a district where the black vote predominates overwhelmingly. Mackey was married to an octogenarian, who is said to be almost white enough to pass for a white woman. He was given his seat in the last Congress, after a contest. Robt. Small, col., will be a candidate to succeed him.

In commenting on the failure of Western Senators and Representatives to support the Owensboro candidate in the Senatorial caucus, the Messenger says:

"The unkindest cut of all, however, is the course pursued by the Senator and representative from Christian county. If political obligations have any binding force, they know and their people know how the account stands between us, and to their sense of right and wrong and to their idea of common fairness we submit it all."

The South Kentuckian has no defense to make for the course of Senator Peay. As he is a man of ambition and it may be with aspirations, we can scarcely understand his course. This we do know, however; he is conscientious in what he has done, and no doubt reflects the will of a majority of his constituents, who made up their mind before Mr. Sweeney became a candidate. As Senator Peay started out to support Mr. Sweeney though, we are sorry he saw fit to change, for Daviess has always done the "white thing" for us in Congressional races. As to Mr. Brasher, the Democratic party is not responsible for his actions. He was elected as an independent and does not claim allegiance to the Democratic party, his last affiliation having been with the Greenbackers.

COL. YOUNG EWING.

No proper history of the county could be written without conspicuous mention of Col. Ewing. Young Ewing, one of the backwoods politicians who flourished in the early days of the Commonwealth. He was a true pioneer and hunter, as everybody else was then; a surveyor, politician and statesman, and in his Protean capacity he usually had his hands full. He came to Christian county just at a time when he was most needed. An unorganized community of people had, by an act of the Legislature, been placed into themselves, and there was a demand for new competent to do the work of putting the infant municipality upon its feet. Col. Ewing was a man adapted to the emergency, and took as naturally to the official harness as a duck to the water. He was the first Circuit clerk of the court, and for a quarter of a century or more he served the people in one position or another, and if he did not do much for the county, it did a great deal for him. He had once commanded a regiment against the Indians, and though the campaign was a bloodless one, yet his military record wafted him into office over all opposition, just as such things sometimes happen at the present day. It is told of him, but the story may be taken with some allowance, that always when a candidate, particularly if the campaign waxed hot and his election appeared at all doubtful, the Colonel would be seen at public gatherings hobnobbing about with a cane, or with an arm in a sling, complaining loudly of the hardships of a soldier's life. But no sooner than he was assured of his election away went his cane; to be seen no more until again needed on a similar occasion.

The name of Col. Ewing appears in the records of Logan county in 1792 as one of the first three magistrates for that county, and in 1795 as a representative in the State Legislature. When he came there or where he was from are questions the most diligent investigation has so far failed to solve. It is to be regretted that so little is known or can be learned of his early life, as anything pertaining to so prominent a character could not but be of interest to the reader. He is believed to have been a native of the Old Dominion, and the elements of state-manship he developed naturally to him as a son of the "Mother of Presidents." From the humble office of magistrate he essayed and accomplished dizzy flights to higher positions which he filled there and again.

He was above the majority of his associates in intellect, but somewhat careless and indifferent in the use of the King's English when pouring forth from the stump one of his hot political campaign speeches. He came among the simple pioneers of Christian county, and walked the echoes of the primeval forests with his rude wild eloquence, and rode in triumph into the affections of the voters to that extent, that he is not known to have been defeated but once in a political contest.

The following entries appear in the early court records: "The line between Logan and Christian counties was run by Young Ewing and his deputy, Nicholas Lockett, on the part of Christian, and Wm. Reading surveyor for Logan Co., Aug. 22, 1797." "Young Ewing was allowed $14. 12s. for running the dividing line between Logan and Christian counties." The facts of his having been a surveyor are doubted by some, but the above extract from the county record would imply that he was. That he was or was not, however, is not material to this sketch. We know that he served long, and perhaps, faithfully in other positions. In addition to having been a surveyor, and the first clerk of the county he was cashier of the first bank established in Hopkinsville. He was a member of the constitutional convention held in Frankfort August 17th 1799, and which framed the second constitution of the state. In the year 1800 his name first appears as a member of the Legislature from Christian county. He was elected again in 1801 and re-elected in 1802, and again elected in 1803 and in 1807. In 1808 he was elected to the state Senate and again in 1812, in 1816, in 1820 and in 1824, but resigned about a year before his last term expired. In the Presidential campaign of 1824, he was elected for the 5th Congressional district. So great and so universal was his popularity that he was selected to many of those positions without opposition, and generally, when he had an opponent his military record carried him through with flying colors. He was a genial gentleman—a "hale fellow well met" withal—courteous and social; could take his toddy "with the boys," and "settle up" occasionally (all of which goes a long way with the "intelligent voter") and but added to his popularity. The last race he ever made for public office, was about the year 1852, for the state senate, and he was defeated. This was a wound to his self complacency from which he never recovered. He had failed to keep pace with the age, New issues had sprung up beyond his ability to master, new and younger men opposed him, and though the "old guard" rallied around him, the new order of things accomplished his defeat. The above presents in detail a record of the official positions held by Young Ewing, so far as the facts are known to us, together with some of his personal peculiarities. Kentucky has produced many remarkable men but none so strongly original, or so interesting as the early, simple and honest statesman of whom Young Ewing was a true type. They borrowed nothing from the books, and if some of them were so illiterate that it amounted to a gift or talent, their honesty of purpose offset any lack of education and culture. They legislated wholly for the good of the people and the country, and from the modern statesman might learn lessons of wisdom.

Col. Ewing long lived one and a half miles from town, on the place now owned by the children of Dr. Shackelford, but for many years was a citizen of Hopkinsville. He was three times married. Of his first wife little is known, except that she bore him one child, a daughter. This daughter married a man named Davison, who was at one time High Sheriff of Daviess county, and who is said, was killed by friends of a prisoner whom he had arrested. Col. Ewing's second wife was Winifred Warren, and one of the best women Judge Long says, that ever lived. His last wife was a Miss Jennings. Unmarried to him was, to say the least, ill-assorted. She was an illiterate, uncount backwoods dame, scarcely more than eighteen, while he was verging on to his three score and ten years. Soon after his last marriage he moved south, perhaps to the western part of Tennessee, where he died many years ago. No lineal descendant of Col. Ewing is now, so far as known, living in Christian county and only a few of the older citizens remember him. Those that do remember him describe him as a sociable, companionable and hospitable gentleman, one who loved his friends, and was never happier than when surrounded by them, and bestowing upon them the hospitality of his home.

Joe Millhatten received a vote for Senator in a joint ballot a few days ago.

Benny, the showman, has a "white elephant on his hands." It is a sacred elephant of Burmah and cost him $200,000.

"Billy the Kid," alias Jim Foley, a notorious gambler, was shot and killed by Henry Hittison, a nephew of Frank James, in a quarrel over a game of cards, at Fort Worth, Texas, last Monday.

The funeral expenses of Congressman Haskell cost the government $3,561. Congressman Mackey's death will furnish another opportunity for a senseless and extravagant waste of the people's money.

The Dawson Rippings, the new paper recently started at Dawson Ky., by Messrs. Crumbaugh, Scott & O'Neill, has been received at this office. It is a six-column folio and is published for $1.00 a year.

"The Peoples Paper" is a new venture in journalism by Griseom, Baskette & Co., at Chattanooga, Tenn. It is devoted to literature and humor and promises fair to rank with the leading papers of its class in the south. The price is only $2.00 a year.

Miscellaneous Malaria.
To say that malaria is mischievous is to put it very mildly. It is all that and more. It is cunning, deceitful, treacherous, sly, and underhanded. It does its work in the dark, and in such a sly way that much of the mischief is done before it is discovered. It saps the foundations of a healthy system. It robs the blood of its vitality, demoralizes the liver, confounds the stomach, and makes the victim wish he were in his grave. It saps the vitality of people sitting down in their misery, and it is the victims of mischievous malaria, and thinking that nothing can be done for them. The power of Brown's Iron Bitters over the chiefs of malaria has been so amply proved that there is no reason why anybody who can procure a bottle of this Prince of Tonics should not. Great is the power of malaria, and great are its disastrous effects. But greater far is the beneficent influence of Brown's Iron Bitters. The preparation of iron in this favorite family remedy can be taken without ruining the teeth or producing constipation and headache.

SOCIALITIES.

Miss Ella Riggins, of New Providence, is visiting Mrs. Jas. H. Bradshaw, at Longview.
Mr. Chas. W. Metcalf returned Tuesday from a business trip to Washington City.
Mr. Winston Henry, of Casky, spent several days of this week with her relatives in the city.

Mr. Charles Anderson has been employed as book-keeper at Gish & Garner's drug store.

Miss Lillie C. Waller is now connected with South Kentucky College, in the capacity of art teacher.

Mr. Jno. Q. Thomas, of Cadiz, who has been attending the Evansville Commercial College, returned home this week.

Capt. W. Howe, who was formerly a railroad conductor on the road here, but has more recently been in the East, was in the city Wednesday having taken his wife, formerly Miss Cox, to visit her mother at Bellevue. Capt. Howe has secured a lucrative position as a conductor on a passenger train and will be located at St. Louis in the future. He is an affable and genial gentleman and has our best wishes wherever his duties may call him.

Mr. Jno. B. Bell and family, his son-in-law Mr. Watson and his family, of this vicinity and Mr. Sam B. McGee, a worthy young farmer of Remondstown, left Wednesday for Texas to take up their abode. Mr. Bell has been one of our most enterprising, progressive and successful farmers and stock raisers and we regret exceedingly to lose a valuable citizen from our county. He has sold all his property here and will locate at Abilene, Tex., and run an extensive stock farm. Mr. McGee will locate at Plano. We wish them one and all unbounded success in the "Lone Star" state.

ROARING SPRINGS, KY.

Ed. South Kentucky: Seeing interesting communications from many sections of the country I thought at no distant day I might have the pleasure of perusing one from some more able penman than my humble self, but see that my hopes were vain, so here goes a few thoughts from a country rustic. Marriage market dull, very dull. Great deal of sickness with some fatality.

Died, at her home, Mrs. Robt. Gary, Dec. 27th, after a long and painful illness. The bereaved family have our heartfelt sympathies.

Died, at his residence Jan. 13th, of consumption, Mr. Peter Lewis in his 73d year. This another old and highly respected citizen has been called to that long home to meet the loved ones who have gone on before.

Died, little Nell, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Wick Dawson, of pneumonia. Heart-broken parents let these thoughts solace you.

Dear little fond heart under the snow, Wherever you're waiting for me I know, Somewhere your eyes are shining bold, And dancing your early rings of gold. You are up in Heaven, I know, Dear little blue eyes under the snow.

Mrs. J. J. Roach is extremely ill. Mr. Male Stephens has been very low with pneumonia, now convalescent.

Miss Sallie Gary, who was called home by the death of her mother, is still in our midst, gladdening the hearts of her many friends.

Alex and George Nance have moved to the Purchase, to try their fortunes. May their efforts be crowned with success.

A certain young gentleman from our vicinity, who is now residing in your city, we learn is quite homesick for the sight of a flush.

If this meets with your approbation will write more soon.

Glover Hunter, an industrious and respected colored mechanic, died yesterday morning of pneumonia, at his home on Maple street, near the railroad.

HERE AND THERE.

W. F. Patton, Life Insurance.

Howe's is the standard city time.

A. D. Rodgers, Fire Insurance Agt.

Great bargains in Jewelry for six days at M. D. Kelly's.

Prof. C. A. C. Lindsay has begun a subscription school at Casky Station.

See new advertisement of C. B. Webb, the saddler, in another column.

A prominent farmer of Longview is a regular subscriber to 19 papers and periodicals.

Dr. Keen, of the Baptist church, will preach his farewell sermon the first Sunday in March.

Harry Webber's Comedy Co. will play "Nip and Tuck" the 5th and "Flint and Steel" the 6th.

The ice blockade has been raised and Evansville mail is now received by the way of Henderson instead of having to go around by Louisville.

Dr. Leavell will sell his place at Sahbria Springs, to the highest bidder on Feb. 9. It is a valuable piece of property. Any one desirous of a nice house ought to attend the sale.

Henry Abernathy and Howell Tandy have engaged in the General Fire Insurance business, representing only first-class companies and desire some of your business. Office in Central Warehouse.

The friend of a certain old bachelor, of Longview, had better keep a watchful eye on him. The frequency of his visits to the locality of Organs is beginning to look suspicious. Gray & Young, the barbers, have removed their shop to elegant quarters on Main street over Bell's saloon, where they are prepared to do everything in this line of business. See their advertisement in another column.

Mr. M. D. Kelly, the new jeweler, inserts a new and conspicuous advertisement this week. Mr. Kelly has one of the handsomest stores and choicest stocks of jewelry in this end of the State. Read his card elsewhere and give him a call.

A sensational story was sent to the Courier-Journal, from Longview, Tuesday, giving the details of an attack made upon Mr. Horace Blockner by a tramp and stating that the latter's bulldog came to his rescue and killed the tramp. The alleged combat was a canard of the Joe Mulholland order.

Messrs. Henry H. Abernathy and Howell Tandy have embarked in the fire insurance business under the firm name of Abernathy & Tandy. They are industrious and popular young gentlemen and will get a good share of the business in their line.

Messrs. Metcalf, Graham & Co. are now opening up at their new stand, Henry Block, an immense stock of hardware, saddlery, queensware, etc., in addition to their stock of implements. They have a conspicuous advertisement in this issue. We recommend them to the public and those who call upon them cannot fail to be suited with goods in their line.

Mr. G. E. Gaither, the new druggist, is now opening his stock in the Howe building. His store room has been fitted up in an elegant manner. The prescription case and the shelving are the handsomest in the city. The arrangement of the counters is very convenient, and the building, stock and everything is entirely new. Mr. Gaither has had 9 yrs. experience as a druggist and thoroughly understands his business. He will be glad to have his friends call on him.

Many of the brick pavements in the city have been totally destroyed by the thaw this week. At Wright's corner, the Phoenix Hotel corner and other places on Main street; at the corner of Virginia street, in front of the Christian church and in front of Capt. Abernathy's residence on Nashville street, and on Liberty street, from Nashville to Mr. McDaniel's residence the pavements are entirely destroyed and the bricks are standing on the sides and half covered with the yellow clay that has been forced up from underneath them. A great many of them will have to be relaid, and at the expense of the property owners. The pavement on West Main between Nashville and Short streets, much of it new, will have to be taken up and repaired. The merchants tried to save it by putting down planks, but it only made matters worse.

The Housewife.

A domestic journal for American house-keepers, will be sent for one year free to every lady who will send at once the names and addresses of ten married ladies or house-keepers and 24 cents in 2-cent stamps for postage. It is the best family paper in the U. S., and this offer is made only to secure names to whom to send sample copies, as we know every lady who once sees "The Housewife" will subscribe for it. Regular price $1.00 per year. Send to day so as to secure next number. Address "The Housewife," Rochester, New York.

ANOTHER FIRE.

A Residence on Maple St. Burned.

The residence of Mr. Newton Payne was discovered to be on fire about 8 o'clock last Tuesday evening. The fire originated in a closet in the hall up-stairs, over the front door, and its origin is involved in an impenetrable mystery. None of the family were upstairs and there had been no fire up there during the day. The alarm was given from the street as the flames were breaking out and Mr. Payne ran to the door only to be informed that it was his own house that was on fire. No water could be had and all efforts were directed to removing the furniture from the lower floor. Nothing was removed from above. Nearly everything was saved below, but much of the furniture was badly damaged. The engine was quickly on hand; after partially extinguishing the debris with water from the cistern at the colored Baptist church, water suddenly gushed out and the fire was left to complete its work as no more could be obtained.

The losses were all covered by insurance as follows:

F. L. Waller, building, $1,000 with R. W. Norwood and $500 with Callis & Hays.

N. Payne, furniture, $500, with Callis & Hays.

Mrs. Minnie Trice, furniture, etc., $300 with Long & Garnett.

Mr. Payne's family has moved temporarily into the house on Main street, recently vacated by Prof. Williams. We understand Mr. Waller will rebuild as soon as possible.

We wish to especially commend the action of "C. D." during the fire. They were in ranks at their armory and when the alarm of fire was given not a man moved a muscle until the company was dismissed in an orderly manner. Then they repaired to the scene of fire and the boys worked nobly saving goods, disregarding the mud although they wore their handsome uniforms. They took charge of the goods saved and prevented much of the stealing usually incident to such occasions.

TOBACCO SALES.

Sales by Abernathy & Co., Jan. 20th, of 17 Hds., as follows:

3 " medium to good leaf $10 50 to 8 00.

12 Hds., and low leaf $7 70 to 6 90.

18 " common to good lugs $6 80 to 6 00.

Market rules firm. Receipts more liberal for past few days.

Sales by Gant & Gaither of 23 Hds., as follows:

12 Hds., common and medium leaf $8.30 to $6.40.

11 Hds., lugs, $6.75 to $6.05.

Market active and firm especially on common leaf and lugs.

Sales by Buckner & Wooldridge of 10 Hds., tobacco as follows:

4 Hds., common leaf (New) $7.00 to $7.25.

Owing to continued hard and cold weather for handling tobacco, receipts and sales continued small; market rules strong and firm for all kinds with lugs a few bids higher.

Coming.

Harry Webber's Comedy Co., will give two performances here next week. On Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, will be presented "Nip and Tuck" which is spoken of by an exchange in the following complimentary terms: "Nip and Tuck, as played by Mr. Harry Webber and Company is something out of the beaten track of dramas. It is a play and performance which grows in interest with each succeeding act. The first two acts are essentially dramatic and afford fine scope for intelligent dramatic acting, the last two are brimming over with fun. The two detectives' cross-fire of clever repartees, and no less clever ruses to deceive each other, and the rapid succession of great surprises which alternately startle and convulse the beholder in the last act, make "Nip and Tuck" one of the most enjoyable, as it is one of the most original entertainments."

"Flint and Steel" will be played Wednesday Feb. 6. It is also a rich Comedy full of fun and entertainment. Don't fail to attend and enjoy yourself. Prices at usual place at 50 and 75 cts.

Col. Young Ewing.

In another column will be found a readable sketch of Col. Young Ewing, one of our early statesmen and politicians. It was written for the history of our county, now in the course of active preparation. Any further facts of interest of Col. Ewing will be gladly received by the editor of the history, and errors in the sketch, if any, will be corrected.

CONCERNING THE BRAIN.

The dog's brain is no larger than that of sheep, and is smaller than the ox's. In the elephant we find that organ weighing three times as much as in man. The whale and other cetaceans, have brains superior to that of man. When the weight of the encephalon is compared with that of the body, we find that in man it is relatively smaller than in several species of monkey, (the orang-outang for example), the sparrow, the tom-tit and the canary. The dog has also relatively less than the bat, the horse than the rabbit. If the circulations or varied and irregular folds noticed on the brain of certain animals are, as some authors consider them, evidences of superiority, it will be found that the ass has fully as many, and the elephant more than man. It is generally admitted that a man whose brain weighs less than 1,000 grams is necessarily deprived of intelligence. Physiologists are not, as yet, agreed on the question as to the age when the brain attains its maximum weight, and as to whether there exists such a period as that when organ decreases or atrophies. According to Mr. Gratiot, "the brain grows constantly, at least among the Caucasian races, from early childhood to decrepitude." It is said that Cromwell's brain weighed 2,238 grams; that of Lord Byron, 2,228; that of Cuvier, 1,829; but these figures, which are not incontestable, prove nothing. Bapland, Desmarts, Voltaire, Napoleon, Schiller, and many other illustrious men had small heads, and their brains could hardly have greatly exceeded the average weight, which varies from 1,528 to 1,424 grams.

SPECIAL LOCALS.

I'm Going To Tandy's To Get a First-class Elegant Drink.

This cut represents two well-known, aristocratic and wealthy merchants, of New York, who happened to be here on business at the same time, and who met on Main street, and after passing the compliments of the day, and questioned as to where each was going, the portly gentleman answered in the head lines of this article. The place referred to by these gents was the elegant dispensary in the Phoenix Hotel owned and presided over by that urbane gentleman Mr. J. M. Tandy. Mr. Theodore Jones, late of Owensboro, is connected with him and will be found the chief conductor behind the bar. Mr. Tandy has not only a wide-spread reputation for, but does keep one of the finest and best saloons in this section of country. His stock, which consists of wines, liquors, beer, cigars and tobacco, are of the best quality, and the manner in which he entertains you can not be surpassed. Those who are faint and weak and desirous of a weak toddy to moisten their parching lips should not forget Tandy's. His motto is: "Meet socially, drink moderately and call again." A true warm lunch is served every day from 10 to 1 o'clock.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

In the manufacture of hominy about one-half of the corn is lost, the stony part alone being saved for hominy, while the germ, sweet or soft part of the berry and smaller particles of hominy are worked off. This makes a most excellent food for stock of any kind as it contains the nutritious part of the berry. To farmers or any one else wanting to try this food I will make an equal exchange pound for pound or can supply them at 80 cents per one hundred pounds. It is a well known fact that ground food will go much farther and stock will thrive and fatten faster from it. It makes a most excellent cow food, especially when mixed with bran.

WOMAN'S PHYSICIAN

AND LADIES' PRIVATE COMPANION

FOR HOME TREATMENT.

A COMMON SENSE MEDICAL INSTRUCTOR FOR LADIES ONLY; Containing full information in reference to all questions relating to Womanhood, the better to enable the sex to fulfill their duties and to enjoy themselves in their various relations as Maidens, Wives and Mothers. It is, as a popular work, commending itself to the great heart of Womanhood; written in plain, concise and delicate language, easy of understanding and above all other recommendations, it is thoroughly reliable and right to the point. It is a work which fills a place occupied by no other book, and is a complete library in itself. No lady, however sensitive, will ever regret its perusal. It gives information which will make life more pleasant, give a higher zest to its enjoyment, make those by whom some times are prized, prize and enjoy them still more, while it will certainly relieve many irksome burdens now borne by those to whom life has proved almost, if not quite, a failure. It gives the causes, symptoms and treatment with prescriptions for every disease peculiar to the sphere for which it is designed. To those who have unlearned, namely, by ignorance, or by a reckless disregard of the divine laws of health made themselves wretched in life by sickness, resulting from any of the various forms of weakness, which follow is the train of womanhood, we can heartily and most confidently recommend this book as one which will give you the advice your necessities require in order to restore you to health and happiness. The wretched form, the pale, wan cheek, the listless sunken eyes, the slow dragging step, the "fired nature" is too often seen in our homes. The authors of this work sincerely believe that all these features may be changed, the form again rounded and plump, the cheeks to bloom with roses of health, the eye to sparkle with life and vivacity, the light quick step regained, and the exalted nature restored, by a simple, home treatment and prescriptions as laid down in this work, and in this belief, and with an earnest desire to benefit the suffering, and renew health and happiness to the afflicted, and to furnish such information to those now in health, as will enable them to retain it and avoid these difficulties, this book has been prepared. Every lady should obtain a copy and read themselves, and no lady in health can afford to be without it and thus remain in ignorance of its peculiar, entertaining and instructive teachings. It is recommended by many eminent lady physicians as a SAFE GUIDE FOR THE SEX. It is handsomely bound and illustrated, and sent post paid to any lady, upon receipt of $1. Address the
